

Tuition and Fees

University Programme

The 2017 University Programme fees are listed below. You may also download the 2017 fees list \(PDF, 309 Ko\).

University Programme tuition fees include classes and any course materials. Additional, optional fees will apply for students who wish to obtain accommodation through the Summer School, for French language track students who wish to take a DELF/DALF exam, and for students who wish to take an elective class.

Tuition fees for courses at the Summer School (core classes and elective classes) are non-refundable. Under exceptional circumstances, and at the discretion of the Summer School management, attendance can be deferred to a later year.

2017 University Programme Tuition Fees

- One session: 2,400 €
- Two sessions: 4,000 €

The following are not included in tuition fees and must be arranged directly by each student: transportation to and from Paris, school supplies (excluding books), food, and housing (if not obtained through the Summer School).

2017 Optional Academic Fees

Elective classes

- Per session: 500 €

Students may choose to take one optional elective class per session in addition to their core social science or French language class. See a full list of 2017 elective classes.

Application Fee

Applicants must pay a 20 € application fee at the time of their application. The fee is payable online by credit card at the end of the application process.

Scholarships

The Summer School is not able to offer any scholarships. We encourage prospective students to check with their home universities and local embassies to see if they may secure additional funding.

Once paid, all tuition and programme fees are non-refundable. In the event of an illness or other medical incident that prevents the student from attending the Summer School, as officially certified by a doctor, the Summer School may exceptionally consider the possibility of a credit to be used the following summer.
