- 1987-1989 : Candidat en Sciences économiques, sociales et politiques, UCL, Louvain-La-Neuve; Grande distinction.

3.2. Certified complementary training

[apart from numerous computer/software training sessions and pedagogical training sessions at the UCL, Institute for Pedagogy and Multimedia – IPM, 1993-1999]

- 6 July- 3 August 1996 : 29th Essex Summer School on Social Science Data Collection and Analysis (Mathematics for the social sciences I & II (4 weeks), Data exploration and visualisation (2 weeks) [Prof. Eugen Horber], Causal reasoning with non-experimental data (2 weeks) [Prof. James A. Davis]); Colchester, University of Essex.
- 13-24 September 1993 : Erasmus summer school on "Parties, party systems and political integration in Europe", Brussels, V.U.B.
- Octobre 1990-février 1991 : étudiant "Erasmus" à l'Institut d'Etudes Politiques, Paris, France (dans le cadre de la deuxième Licence) : cours et séminaires isolés du D.E.A. en science politique.
- 16-28 juillet 1990: Cours-séminaire Erasmus intensif "Migrations et populations islamiques en Europe/ Migrations and islamic populations in Europe", Louvain-La-Neuve, UCL.

4. SPECIFIC EXPERTISE

4.1. Substantive expertise

[this section still to be translated into English]

4.1.1. Niveau macro

- Systèmes politico-institutionnels ; typologies des régimes politiques ; clivages et formation des Etats ; émergence de nouveaux clivages
- Fédéralisme, articulations entre échelons européen, national, régional et local
- Systèmes électoraux ; modes de scrutin ; systèmes de partis
- Relations exécutifs – parlements – administrations – acteurs politiques
- Influence politique, lobbying, processus de décision politique
- Crises politiques
- Globalisation, européanisation et leurs impacts sur les systèmes politiques nationaux ; institutions à parties prenantes multiples
- Réponses des systèmes politiques à la montée de « nouveaux » enjeux (en particulier : environnement) ; structures d'opportunités politiques
- Démocraties libérales, démocraties pluralistes (Europe, autres démocraties libérales y compris Amérique du Nord, Japon, Australie, Nouvelle-Zélande)
- Europe occidentale, Europe centrale et orientale (spécifiquement : Pologne), Europe du Sud (spécifiquement : Grèce, Balkans)
- Démocraties consociatives / de concordance ; néo-corporatisme ; pillarisation ; négociation, arrangements institutionnels et résolution de conflits dans des sociétés segmentées (spécifiquement : Belgique, Autriche, Suisse) ; démocratie participative
- Conflits communautaires dans l'espace européen (dans leurs différentes dimensions : 'ethnique', culturelle, linguistique, religieuse, socio-économiques, territoriale, etc.)

4.1.2. Niveau méso

- Partis politiques : émergence de nouveaux partis ; développement et transformation des partis ; typologies et évolutions récentes des partis ; organisations partisans et changement organisationnel ; partis Verts et autres « nouveaux » partis ; impacts de l'européanisation ; impacts des « nouveaux » partis sur les partis plus établis
- Mouvements sociaux : émergence et développement des « nouveaux » mouvements sociaux ; protestation et mouvements citoyens ; relations avec partis politiques
- Interactions entre partis, mouvements sociaux, acteurs économiques et institutions politiques (dans un contexte de globalisation)
- Théories des organisations appliquées aux partis politiques et aux organisation de la « société civile »

4.1.3. Niveau micro

- Comportement des dirigeants politiques

- Comportement et perceptions des cadres, militants et membres des partis politiques et mouvements sociaux
- Comportement électoral ; perceptions du politique par les citoyens/électeurs ; vote de protestation et vote sur enjeux ; changements de valeurs

4.2. Methodological expertise

4.2.1. Comparative methods

- data collection and research design: specific techniques mastered:
 - o case selection and typology-building
 - o measurement issues (qualitative and quantitative)
 - o model-building
 - o etc.
- data analysis and software : specific techniques mastered: all “configurational comparative” techniques (csQCA, mvQCA, fsQCA), with cutting-edge expertise (and support in development and bug-hunting) for the TOSMANA and FSQCA programmes.
- software : less frequent use : R (QCA module), STATA (fsQCA module)
- core fields of application by myself (see also publications list for more details) :
 - o political parties (various aspects)
 - o adaptation of business firms (e.g. Maenen, Bol & Rihoux forthcoming)
- large number of colleagues, researchers and advanced students/Ph.D students with whom I have corresponded (or met through the COMPASSSS seminars and other meetings) to provide QCA advice – in the following disciplines and fields, besides political science broadly defined:
 - o management : organizational performance, adaptation of business firms, career paths in administrations, knowledge management, innovation in spin-offs,
 - o gender studies, feminist studies (interdisciplinary)
 - o sociology : organizational sociology, social stratification
 - o communication and media studies : internet risks for children, NICTs
 - o political economy and development studies : local economic development in Asia, Africa
 - o health studies
 - o education studies
 - o human geography
- particular innovations :
 - o Elaboration and maintenance of a ‘thick’ cross-case database (qualitative/historical as well as numerical information), as a ‘best practice’ to enable iterative, case-informed and transparent QCA analyses (substantive topic: Green parties in Western Europe)
 - o First published procedure to solve “contradictory simplifying assumptions” (Rihoux 2001)
 - o Dichotomization procedures – using contradictory configurations to fine-tune operationalization of variables and refine the model

- Inclusion of time and process in QCA (different strategies)
- Detailed research design (sequence) so as to articulate QCA with case-based knowledge (see Rihoux & Lobe 2009, forthcoming)
- Visual presentation of QCA minimal formulas (“maps of key causal conjunctures”)
- In general: key role in establishing “good practices” for the global academic community (see textbook, Rihoux & Ragin 2008)
- QCA for collaborative international projects involving national case specialists: good practices established through the PEACE-COM project (FP7)
- Articulation of QCA techniques with quantitative (statistical) methods
- Contributions to the discussion (methodological, epistemological and ontological) on the respective strengths and limitations of configurational comparative methods vis-à-vis quantitative and quantitative methods

4.2.2. Quantitative methods

- data collection and research design : specific techniques mastered: advanced questionnaire design, translation, sampling (also within organizations, e.g. party members), question wording in comparative (cross-national) surveys, fieldwork in multilingual environments
- data analysis : specific techniques mastered: descriptive statistics, crosstabs, exploratory data analysis, regression analysis, multivariate analysis, correspondence analysis
- experience with major datasets: Eurobarometers, European Election Survey, Comparative Political Dataset, Belgian Election Survey dataset (ISPO/PIOP), European Social Survey
- software : frequent use : SPSS
- software : less regular use : SAS, SPAD, R
- fields of application (see also publications list for more details) :
 - electoral and opinion surveys, ex-ante and ex-post (especially the Belgian Electoral Survey, in which I have been playing an active role since 1991)
 - surveys among party activists and party members
 - surveys among party cadres
 - surveys among social movement activists and cadres
 - surveys among demonstrators (with Stefaan Walgrave, now University of Antwerp)
- particular innovations :
 - 1995-1996 : survey design : use of “snowball” technique to map cross-affiliations of new social movement and Green activists, so as to adapt sampling
 - 1996-1997 : survey design : with Stefaan Walgrave (K.U.Leuven): fine-tuning of a sampling procedure for on-site survey interviews among demonstrators
 - 2001-...: questionnaire design: together with Wolfgang Rüdiger (Univ. Strathclyde) and Jo Buelens (V.U.Brussels): creation of a new “party goals” battery of questions, and first implementation and analysis in 18 countries in the “European Green Party Members survey (see forthcoming article : Rüdiger, Buelens & Rihoux). Also tested among party cadres in Belgium (2006; see Dumont, Rihoux et.al. 2006).

4.2.3. Qualitative methods

- data collection and research design: specific techniques mastered: case selection, structured and non-structured interviews, direct observation, document and archive retrieval, ...
- data analysis : specific techniques mastered: case study research (case study monographs, narratives, etc.), qualitative analysis of textual data (semiotics)
- fields of application (see also publications list for more details) :
 - o political parties, party manifestos
 - o social movements; new social movements
 - o conflict studies; community conflicts
- particular innovations :
 - o 2002-2003 : mixed methods design of qualitative (interviews, group discussions, direct observation) and quantitative (surveys at different levels) data collection tools and analysis for the organizational audit of a political party (French Greens – see section 9.4. : Expertise and consultant tasks).
 - o Templates for “thick” case studies in cross-national projects (e.g. PEACE-COM project)
 - o Elaboration of “Synthetic Case Descriptions” (SCDs) in-between qualitative case studies and more formal comparison. Implemented in the PEACE-COM project.
 - o Comparative and transversal interview grids for EU-wide projects (PEACE-COM, INFOCON), with Prof. Elise Féron.
 - o Including thick case studies in a sequential mixed methods design, in a EU-wide project with case experts (PEACE-COM).

4.3. More generic tools and miscellaneous

- expert use of suite software: Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Access, FileMakerPro, Outlook etc.
- Web design : Dreamweaver
- Bibliographical software : ProCite, EndNote

5. TEACHING, DISSEMINATION, MENTORING ACTIVITIES AND PEDAGOGICAL INNOVATION

[apart from dissertation supervision at Masters levels – ca. 5-7 dissertations per year on average]

5.1. Full courses and seminars

[Unless otherwise specified : English used as teaching language]

5.5. Pedagogical innovations

[see also next section: funded pedagogical projects]

- 2006 - ... : Development (with Prof. Bernhard Kittel) of an original concept for the ECPR Summer School in Methods and Techniques – coverage of methodologies across several dimensions, as well as development of a plenary programme with different formats of events

(“the challenge”, “the defence”, the “Monday mix”, 1-day series of research design seminars, etc.). See also section 6.1 (International management duties).

- 2003 - ... : Pedagogical innovation in the management and evaluation of a first-year undergraduate methodological and university work seminar with a large audience (ca. 100 to 130 yearly). Implementation of a two-stage seminar, using the Claroline platform through ICampus (<http://www.icampus.ucl.ac.be/>) : (1) Work with sub-groups of 5 students, delivering reports which are evaluated (collective grade); then (2) individual report by each student, evaluating the report of another subgroup. Recognized as “best practice” and innovative pedagogy at the UCL – see short presentation [in French] at: http://web.me.com/sylviane.bachy/ACE/M%C3%A9thodes/Entr%C3%A9es/2008/4/23_encadrement_individuel.html .
- 1999-...: among the first users of the ICampus platform. Part of the first “core user group” as the platform was being developed, initially by a UCL-lead team. This platform is now widely used worldwide under the “Claroline” label – see <http://www.claroline.net/index.php?lang=en>).

5.6. Funded pedagogical projects

Ottawa (Canada) and Fondation Nationale des Sciences Politiques, Paris (France). Together with Yves Conrad, UCL.	UCL (FDP – Fund for Pedagogical Development)	16.000 € (incl. 1 scientific collaborator [20%])

6. MANAGEMENT DUTIES – OFFICIAL POSITIONS

6.1. International

- 2009 - ... : Joint initiator and Co-ordinator of a Complementary Masters programme on “Genre, Institutions et Société” [Gender, institutions and society] at the Université Lumière de Bujumbura (Burundi). Courses taught by Belgian and Burundese scholars.
<http://www.uclouvain.be/287342.html>
- 2006 - ... : Joint academic convenor (with Prof. Bernhard Kittel) of the ECPR Summer School in Methods and Techniques, University of Ljubljana (Slovenia).
<http://www.essex.ac.uk/ecpr/events/summerschools/ljubljana/index.aspx>

Key Facts and Figures :

- 2006: 12 parallel 2-week courses, 155 participants from 75 different institutions.
- 2007: 13 parallel 2-week courses and 4 three-day refresher courses, 187 participants from 110 different institutions.
- 2008: 14 parallel 2-week courses, 4 three-day refresher courses and a 1-day series of research design seminars, 255 participants from ca. 115 different institutions.
- 2009: offer of 12 parallel 2-week courses, 4 three-day refresher courses and 10 one-week courses, ca. 325 participants.
- 2010: offer of 7 three-day refresher courses and 21 parallel 2-week courses

Statement of the Summer School : “A solid training in methods is the fundament of successful research. A researcher should know what a method does, how it works, and how it should be applied, but also what its potentials and what its limits are. Hence methods training is a tightrope walk between the perils of overconfidence in a method’s capacity and underestimation of its potential. The ECPR Summer School in Methods and Techniques provides ECTS accredited up to date training in specialy selected methods in the whole spectrum of approaches used in the social sciences. In particular, it emphasises those methods which are particularly salient for research questions in political science. It deals with all stages of a project, it caters to the needs of research set at the macro and at the micro level, and it covers quantitative and qualitative designs. Disrespecting traditional divisions of the discipline, among which the quantitative/qualitative and the analytical/interpretive polarity are the most prominent, the Summer School fosters dialogue between various persuasions.”

8.7. Applications for funded projects (in the pipeline)

- Co-ordinator of the “CARMEN” (Case-based Applied Research Methodologies Network) Marie Curie Integrated Research Network (ITN) project, submitted on 21 Dec. 2009 (FP7, European Commission). The CARMEN project gathers 11 full partners and 26 associated partners: political science departments, management and business schools, and private firms.
- Involvement in a “phase II” or “phase III” project to prolong the project on “The Study of Strategies of Social Change using the Method of Qualitative Comparative Analysis (QCA)” (British Academy; Co-ordinators: Dr. Wendy OLSEN, University of Manchester, and Prof. Daishiro NOMIYA, Sophia University, Tokyo).

9. RESEARCH ACTIVITIES, ORGANISATION AND FUNDING

9.1. Research networks and groups

2009 (January) : Launching of the “New COMPASSSS” international research group pages – complete re-organization of the core group and of the COMPASSSS international resource website (<http://www.compassss.org>). International mailing list : ca. 1,400 recipients + a “second circle” of ca. 2,100 recipients (as of November 2008). Joint management and co-ordination with Dr. Wendy Olsen (University of Manchester). Eight other core partners in Europe, the USA and Japan, and 10 Associate partners.

Statement of “New COMPASSSS” : “COMPASSSS is a worldwide network bringing together scholars and practitioners who share a common interest in theoretical, methodological and practical advancements in a systematic comparative case approach to research which stresses the use of a configurational logic, the existence of multiple causality and the importance of a careful construction of research populations. (...) It is a place of dialogue and fruitful confrontation between qualitative and quantitative methods, as well as a locus for the integration of these methods and the further development and application of original approaches, methods and techniques, in an endeavour to develop an overall approach for systematic comparative case analysis. It strives to be a place of exchange between scholars from a broad range of disciplines across the social and behavioural sciences and beyond.”

2008-... : Active member in the core group for the project on “The Study of Strategies of Social Change using the Method of Qualitative Comparative Analysis (QCA)” (British Academy; Co-ordinators: Dr. Wendy Olsen, University of Manchester, and Prof. Daishiro Nomiya, Sophia University).

2003 - ... : Joint chair and founder of the ABSP-CF working group on « Approches et méthodes en politique comparée – approches and methods in comparative politics” (together with Lieven De Winter (UCL), Gisèle De Meur (ULB), Patrick Dumont (UCL & Luxembourg).

2001-2003 : Manager of the international resource site on small-N research (formerly <http://smalln.spri.ucl.ac.be>), later transformed into COMPASSSS (see above).

2001 : joint founder of the Centre de Politique Comparée (CPC), UCL. (head : Prof. Lieven De Winter). Member of the board. See <http://cpc.spri.ucl.ac.be/>

2000 - ... : Member of the Standing Group on Extremism and Democracy du European Consortium for Political Research (ECPR) (coord.: Prof. C. Mudde, U. Antwerpen).

1999-... : Membre associé de la Société d’Etudes Politiques et Sociales (SEPS) – Vereniging voor Politieke en Sociale Studies (VPSS).

1999-... : Member of the Standing Group on Political Parties du European Consortium for Political Research (ECPR).

1996-... : Participation, with L. DE WINTER and P. DUMONT (UCL), to the « Party Manifesto Project » (coordination : Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin für Sozialforschung): coding of Belgian party programmes.

1996-... : Membre associé du "Groupe d'Etude et de Recherche sur les Mutations du Militantisme" (GERMM) de l’Association Française de Science Politique (Paris, France) depuis 1996. Participation à plusieurs réunions et ateliers. Coordinateurs : N. MAYER (CEVIPOF, Paris) et O. FILLIEULE (CRESAL, Paris).

1996 : Participation in the comparative project lead by W.C. MÜLLER (UCLA, USA) with regards to clientelism and patronage in liberal democracies (collection and coding of data for Belgium).

1992-... : Member of the "Standing Group on Green Politics" of the ECPR (European Consortium for Political Research).

1992-... : Membre actif du "Groupe d'Etude des Mouvements Ecologistes" (GEME) de l'Association Française de Science Politique (Paris, France) depuis sa création. Participation à plusieurs réunions et ateliers. Coordinateurs: D. BOY (CEVIPOF, Paris), B. VILLALBA (Lille II) et A. ROCHE (Clermont-Ferrand).

1991-... : Membre actif du "Point d'appui Interuniversitaire sur l'Opinion publique et la Politique" (PIOP/ISPO, UCL/KUL). Coordinateurs: A-P. FROGNIER (UCL) et J. BILLIET (KUL). Tâches de soutien à la réalisation d'enquêtes d'opinion; analyse de données quantitatives; participation aux différentes activités et réunions du Point d'appui, en ce comprises les activités de représentation (Forum des Points d'appui, conférences de presse, ...).

9.2. Main funding obtained

[NB: in addition to the projects listed below, I have been involved, since 1991, in all 5 waves of the Belgian Election Survey, carried out by an interuniversity team at UCL (PIOP, for the French-speaking side) and K.U.Leuven (ISPO, for the Flemish-speaking side). The funding for this long-term project for the French-speaking side (PIOP, coord. Prof. André-Paul Frogner), from public sources at the federal and regional levels, amounted to 500.000 € for each one of the first three waves (1991, 1995, 1999), then 300.000 € for 2003 and 240.000 € for 2007.]

9.4. Editorship and reviewing

9.4.1. Book series editorship

2007-... : joint Series Editor (with Prof. Bernhard Kittel), ECPR Research Methods Series (Palgrave Macmillan). First two volumes out in 2008 : Qualitative Methods in International Relations, a Pluralist Guide (Audie Klotz, Deepa Prakash, eds), and Method and Substance in Macromethodological Analysis (Lane Kenworthy, Alexander Hicks, eds). Volume out in 2009: Interviewing Experts (Alexander Gogner, Beate Littig & Wolfgang Menz, eds). Six further book projects in the pipeline, and five other pre-projects.

Statement : “The Series provides students and scholars with state-of-the-art scholarship on methodology, methods and techniques. The series comprises innovative and intellectually rigorous monographs and edited collections which bridge schools of thought and cross the boundaries of conventional approaches. It covers both empirical-analytical and interpretive approaches, micro and macro studies, and quantitative and qualitative methods. The aim of the series is to present research methods in an accessible form, suitable both for researchers and graduate course-takers and tutors working in this broad and rapidly changing field. The presentation of methodology, methods and techniques is always embedded in the context of specific research problems.”
