

SÉMINAIRE GÉNÉRAL DU CENTRE D'ÉTUDES EUROPÉENNES

Democratic Accountability, Party Systems and Corruption in Democracies around the World

Intervenante

Petra Schleiter (University of Oxford/St Hilda's College and visiting Fellow at Sciences Po/CEE)

Dr Petra Schleiter is the Tutorial Fellow in Politics at St Hilda's College and a Lecturer in Politics at the Department of Politics and International Relations. She holds a B.Sc. (Econ) International Relations (London School of Economics), an M.Phil. Russian Studies (St. Antony's College, University of Oxford), and a D.Phil. (Nuffield College, University of Oxford).

Petra Schleiter's research is focussed on the effects that political institutions have on a series of outcomes ranging from government formation and survival to the durability of democracy and political corruption.

Discussion

Nicolas Sauger (Sciences Po/CEE)

Nicolas Sauger is an Associate Research Professor at Sciences Po/CEE. His fields of research focus on the analysis of changes in structures of political competition in France and Europe.

He has recently published Les Français, des Européens comme les autres ? (with Daniel Boy and Bruno Cautres), Paris, Presses de Sciences Po, 2010.

Simon Persico (Sciences Po/CEE)

Simon Persico is a PhD student at Sciences Po/CEE working on political parties and environmental issues in France and in the United Kingdom.

He has recently published « Partis politiques et politiques publiques », (with Ramona Coman), in Laurie Boussaguet, Sophie Jacquot and Pauline Ravinet (eds.), Dictionnaire des politiques publiques : une boîte à outils pour comprendre l'action publique, (2011).

Jeudi
9 juin 2011

12h30 – 14h00

Sciences Po
Salle Jean Monnet
56, rue Jacob
75006 Paris

