

*

Tuesday 4 December 2012

5 pm – 8 pm

Sciences Po
Salle J210
13, rue de l'Université
75007 Paris

SEMINAR

Metropolitan growth and decline in comparative perspective

Presenters

Michael Storper (Sciences Po, CSO / UCLA)

Keys to the City: How Economics, Institutions, Interactions and Politics Shape the Development of City Regions

Michael Storper is professor of Economic Sociology at Sciences Po Paris and of Regional and International Development at UCLA. He is interested in economic geography, globalization, technological change, the functioning of urban and regional economies, and the process of economic development.

Professor Storper will present his researches on economic development of American cities and his forthcoming book Keys to the City: How Economics, Institutions, Interactions and Politics Shape the Development of City Regions (Princeton University Press).

Pierre Veltz (Ecole des Ponts / Paris Saclay)

Paris, France, Monde. Repenser l'économie par le territoire

Pierre Veltz is the President and the CEO of the Etablissement Public Paris Saclay, and professor at the Ecole des Ponts and at Sciences Po. His fields of research are urban development and planning, economic geography, management, and the transformations of organizational structures. Professor Veltz will present his book Paris, France, Monde. Repenser l'économie par le territoire (Editions de l'Aube, 2012).

Discussant

Patrick Le Galès (Sciences Po, CEE, CNRS)

Patrick Le Galès is about to publish a new book with Alberta Andreotti and Francisco Javier Moreno Fuentes, Globalizing urban bougeoisies, partial exit and rootedness in four European cities, forthcoming 2013 (Wiley/Blackwell)

Free entrance – No registration is needed

Contact: Francesca.artioli@sciences-po.org