

Law School, London School of Economics
&
Law School, Sciences Po

Planetary Responsibility

Organisers: Stephen Humphreys (LSE) & Alain Pottage (Sciences Po)

London School of Economics
December 11th & 12th 2021

Participants: Jean d'Aspremont (Sciences Po), Mario Biagioli (UCLA), Simon Caney (Warwick), Paul Edwards (Stanford), Liz Fisher (Oxford), Andreas Folkers (Giessen), Anna Grear (Cardiff), Stephen Humphreys (LSE), Hannah Landecker (UCLA), Andrew Lang (Edinburgh), Horatia Muir-Watt (Sciences Po), Naomi Oreskes (Harvard), Alain Pottage (Sciences Po), Hans-Jörg Rheinberger (Max Planck Berlin), Thomas Scheffer (Frankfurt), Marilyn Strathern (Cambridge).

Programme

Saturday, December 11th

10.15 Introduction

10.30-12.15 Panel 1

Simon Caney (Warwick) Political responsibility and climate change

Anna Grear (Cardiff) All the way down and up: Transcellularities, membranous entanglements and a legal imaginary for the planetary

13.30-15.15 Panel 2

Hans-Joerg Rheinberger Planetary responsibility
(Max Planck)

Marilyn Strathern (Cambridge) What falls on people

15.45-17.45 Panel 3

Liz Fisher (Oxford)	Waste: Legal imagination in action
Stephen Humphreys (LSE)	Against future generations
Andrew Lang (Edinburgh)	Repertoires of responsibility

Sunday, December 12th

10.00-12.00 Panel 4

Andreas Folkers (Giessen)	Environmental responsibility
Hannah Landecker (UCLA)	Inflammatory remarks
Alain Pottage (Sciences Po)	Responsibility as inflection

13.00-15.00 Panel 5

Mario Biagioli (UCLA)	Irresponsible responsibility
Horatia Muir Watt (Sciences Po)	Defending the nonhuman
Thomas Scheffer (Frankfurt)	The societies of existential problems

15.30-17.15 Panel 6

Paul Edwards (UCLA)	It's about time. Learning to feel planetary history
Naomi Oreskes (Harvard)	Climate change breaks the promise of progress

17.15-18.15 Concluding discussion

Jean d'Aspremont (Sciences Po)
