

Call for research assistant

A research assistant position is available in a research project on public opinion on the Euro. It concerns a PhD research that uses focus groups in order to map how citizens reason about the Euro, aiming to address questions on the Euro's legitimacy on the one hand, and questions on public opinion formation on the other.

These focus groups will be conducted in Paris in July. The research assistant will help in setting up the focus groups, consisting of tasks such as recruitment, moderation, transcription and possibly analysis.

Offer:

- Valuable experience with innovative qualitative research
- Time estimation: 140-180 hours in the period June-August
- Financial compensation is available (€1400-€2000, exact amount depending on further agreements)

Requirements:

- Fluent in French and English
- Experience with qualitative research
- Experience with focus groups is an advantage
- Interest in method and topic

When interested, e-mail or message Joris Melman (+31612421944 - joris.melman@arena.uio.no)