Call for abstracts – PopFest 2018:
The 26th Annual Population Postgraduate Conference

Tuesday 19 - Thursday 21 July 2018
Nuffield College, University of Oxford
http://popfestoxford.com/

PopFest is an annual Population Studies conference for graduate and postgraduate students organised by fellow postgraduates. The conference was held for the first time in 1993 at the University of Southampton. It provides an excellent opportunity to bring together PhD students from various Social Science disciplines such as Sociology, Demography, Human Geography, Economics, Social Anthropology, Social Statistics, Politics and other related fields.

PopFest is a great opportunity to present your work in a welcoming environment and to meet with other PhD researchers sharing similar interests.

Location
The University of Oxford will be hosting the event for the first time. The University of Oxford, established in the 12th century, provides a unique opportunity to bring together the most talented researchers from across the world. In collaboration with the Department of Sociology, the event will take place at Nuffield College, one of the 38 constituent Oxford Colleges. Nuffield College is a graduate college specialised in the social sciences.

Submission
Abstracts for both oral presentations and poster sessions are welcome. The overarching theme of the conference is « Social Inequality and Demography ».

Theoretical as well as empirical papers can include—but are not limited to—the following topics: Social Stratification, Family Demography, Migration, Well-Being, Gender, Ageing, Childhood and Youth, Fertility, Health, Mortality and Quantitative Methods.
Paper proposals should include a title and a structured abstract following the Demographic Research guidelines (with a maximum of 300 words).

1. BACKGROUND. What is the motivation for this submission?
2. OBJECTIVE. What specific question(s) does this submission address?
3. METHODS. What data? What methods?
4. RESULTS. What are the main findings?
5. CONCLUSIONS. What do the findings mean?
6. CONTRIBUTION. What new contribution does this submission make to the scientific literature?

Submission will open the 10th of January and close the 1st of March, 2018.

PopFest also gives postgraduates the opportunity to chair sessions. If you are interested in chairing a session, please indicate it in your submission.

Please submit your abstract using the online tool available on our website.
