

Outline of disciplinary procedures for breaches of academic integrity Document for students and faculty
An interview is organised with the studer	nt, the academic advisor and the professor
The academic team sends a report describing the incident to the Academic Integrity Unit
The Academic Integrity Unit proceeds to a characterization of the incident and sends its recommendations to the Department of Education and Student Success
If fraud or attempted fraud is established, the Department of Education and Student Success informs the Director of Sciences Po and proposes the implementation of one of the two disciplinary procedures:
1 - If the student accepts responsibility for the fraud or attempted fraud: Implementation of a procedure for prior admission of guilt, known as "plea-bargain"	2 - If the student does not recognize the acts of fraud or attempted fraud: Referral to the disciplinary section (standard procedure)
The student is called in for a preliminary interview and a sanction is proposed (see article R. 811-40 of the Code of Education)	Investigation, drafting of a report, meeting of the disciplinary section in the presence of the student, and assignment of a sanction
If the student accepts the sanction, it must be approved by the disciplinary section	The student receives a written notification of the sanction, which is also sent to the academic team of the programme
If the sanction is approved by the disciplinary section, the student receives a written notification of the sanction, which is also sent to the academic team of the programme	Publication of the sanction according to the decision of the disciplinary section.
If the sanction is not approved by the disciplinary section, the standard procedure applies (see the following point n.2)
If the student does not accept the sanction, the case is referred to the disciplinary section and the standard procedure applies (see the following point n.2)
Reference: Web page on Academic Integrity Sciences Po Stude	ents,